

Commonwealth Lawyers Association

The Council of the Commonwealth Lawyers Association is pleased to announce that Ms Louise Delahunty has accepted their invitation to serve on the 2017-2019 CLA Executive Committee.

Louise Delahunty is a partner at Cooley LLP in London. She has more than 30 years of experience advising individuals, corporations and financial institutions on business-related crime issues, including in relation to the UK Bribery Act, SEC and FCA enforcement and compliance, Anti-money laundering compliance, White-collar criminal investigations, Mutual legal assistance, cross border investigations & extradition and EU sanctions.

She has represented financial institutions, hedge funds, energy, and healthcare around the world. A former member of HM Treasury (Government) Money Laundering Advisory Committee, Louise has been a member of UK government and EU committees regarding anti-money laundering law and regulation. She was a member of the Attorney General's Plea Negotiation Panel, and gave evidence in 2009 to the Parliamentary Select Committee on the new Bribery Bill, now the Bribery Act 2010.

We look forward to working with her.
